

Places Of Worship

Worship

What does it mean to
'worship' God?

To 'worship' God, means to praise
Him and / or thank Him

Worship and Religions

All religious people worship a God or some Gods

People from different religions worship their God/s in different places

Where Do People Worship?

Can you name some buildings where people from different religions go to worship?

Christian Church

Jewish Synagogue

Muslim
Mosque

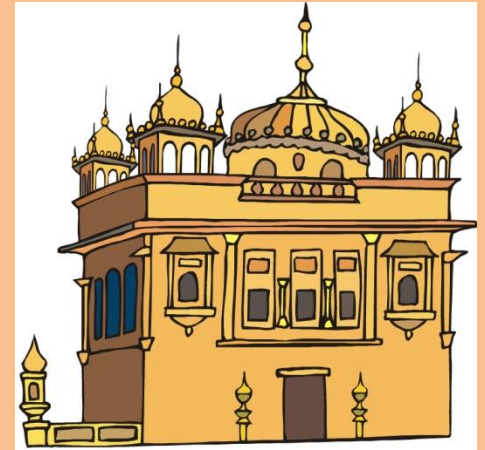

Where Do People Worship?

Sikh
Temple

Buddhist
Temple

Hindu
Temple

People can also worship God in 'normal' places, like at home, at school or anywhere really!

Why Special Buildings for Worship?

Why do you think people go to special buildings to worship God?

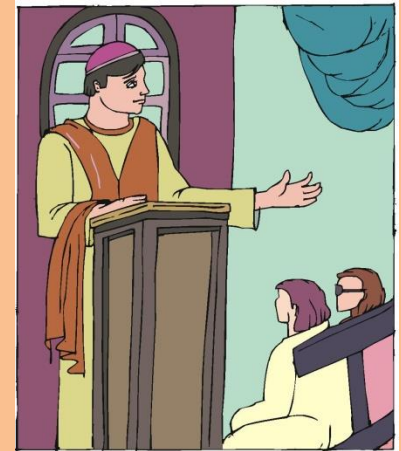

For special occasions

To meet people from their religion

To pray

To hear religious leaders

What About You?

Do you go to any of these special places?

What do you do there?

What does the building look like?

What things are there inside the building?

Different Places of Worship

Usually all of the buildings that belong to one religion have some things in common

Can you remember the name of the special place of worship for Christians?

Today we are going to look at some churches and the things that are inside them!

What are 'denominations'?

There are over 1 billion Christians in the world, but not all of them believe exactly the same things

Within Christianity, there are different groups called 'denominations' who believe slightly different things

These groups are often called 'branches' of Christianity, because like the branches of a tree, they all start at the same place, but then go in different directions!

Different Denominations' Churches

Because different denominations believe different things and have different traditions, their churches sometimes look different too or have different things inside them

We are going to look at some churches from different denominations

What can you spot that is the same in each church?

What can you spot that is different in some of them?

Source of images

All images www.clipart.com or www.clker.com